American Legion Post 39 Band Sponsoring Presentation by Federal Music Project—Peter T. Bodge To Conduct Chorus and Symphony Orchestra in Grand Opera Program—Prominent Citizens Among Patrons

The committee for the performance of Gounod's Faust, in Robbins Memorial town hall, this Friday evening has made preparations to accommodate a capacity audience attracted by the prospect of a highly enjoyable evening provided by talent from the Federal Music Project. The Arlington American Legion band is sponsoring the "Faust" performance, the proceeds of which will be used to obtain uniforms, instruments, and other items necessary for its maintenance.

The State chorus and Commonwealth Symphony orchestra, which have a combined strength of nearly two hundred professional artists, have come to be recognized as New England's outstanding interpreters of grand opera. Two years of constant association under the

LARGE GATHERING ENJOYS WOMAN'S CLUB PROGRAM

Robbins memorial town hall was the scene of one of the most colorful gatherings of the season Thursday evening when the Arlington Woman's club held its annual guest night.

Mrs. Fred U. Wyman, vice president, extended greetings to the members and guests, being the presiding officer in the absence of Mrs. L. E. A. Smith, president.

Miss Barbara E. Hanson, president of the Junior Woman's Club gave a glowing report of the work the young women were doing. The club has a membership of 125 and a long waiting list. Miss Hanson spoke of the success of the work that was being done for the blind in Arlington.

Cornelius Greenway gave his fascinating account of the pleasures and sorrows of an autograph collector, the subject of his talk being "Shooting Big Game with a Fountain Pen."

Mr. Greenway was interpreter for President Wilson at the Peace Conference and his ability to speak several languages made it possible for him to obtain, by his own unique methods, the autographs of practically all the celebrities of this generation. His description of how he obtained these autographs held the attention of everyone in the hall.

Bag Snatcher Escapes Following Holdup of Woman on Egerton Rd.

Held up by a young man in front of her home, Friday evening, Mrs. Anna Sweedy, of 26 Egerton road was forced to give up her handbag containing $4.00 in cash, some papers and a pair of eyeglasses. Her screams were heard by a neighbor who summoned the police. When Patrolmen Langan and John Ryan arrived on the scene however, the holdup man had fled in an automobile. The description of the car tallied with one stolen in Woburn. The bag snatcher was described as being about 24 years old and six feet tall. He wore a dark overcoat and a brown soft hat, and carried a flashlight.

How Town Hall Grounds Will Be Landscaped

Architect's drawing showing changes to be made in landscaping of grounds between Robbins town hall and library. New wall will enclose grounds when project is completed. Olmsted Brothers are the architects in charge.

tion of a suitable plan for the performance of their duties in the expenditure of this fund.

Definite plans took form and they employed the services of Olmsted Brothers, well-known landscape architects, to develop plans for the improvement of the grounds surrounding the town hall as follows:

1. Improvement of the area about the Dallin Indian, altering the formal character of existing water features to produce an informal, woodsy, rocky environment, including the introduction of a naturalistic planting as a background to the Indian.

2. Construction of a low boundary wall along the street property lines, of limestone similar in color and character to the stone used in the town hall with a view to "tying together" the town hall and library into one visual composition.

3. Removal of certain hedges and realignments of certain paths in the central area which now appear to cut the area up into several pieces, with a view to producing instead a unified composition in the form of one comparatively larger lawn area, generally oval in shape.

4. Boundary plantations of flowering shrubs and trees (1) along portions of the street lines which will tend to reduce the noise and cut out the sight of vehicular traffic and to enhance the privacy of the area.

5. Other plantations, insofar as available funds permit, of shrubs and flowering trees (1) in relation with the town hall proper to soften the present severity of its mass; (2) on either side of the entrance terrace, etc.

6. Embellishment of the area about the flagpole, the nine bronze base of which is worthy of a more substantially paved platform upon which to rest.

In response to this proposal of Miss Ida F. Robbins as surviving trustee, the board of selectmen authorized her agents and servants to enter upon the land adjacent to Robbins' Memorial town hall to carry through the purposes enumerated above.

With The Kiwanians

"First Century of Baseball", the official American league moving picture for 1939 was shown at the meeting of the Kiwanis club in Wally's tavern yesterday noon.

The motion picture provides forty-five minutes of thrills for baseball fans. Going back to 1839, the picture reviews the first hundred years of baseball and shows such prominent baseball figures as Joe McCarthy, manager of the Yanks, Connie Mack, Clark Griffith, Del Baker, Lou Gehrig, Tris Speaker, Babe Ruth, Jimmy Foxx, Lefty Grove, Bob Feller and a host of outstanding big league players in action.

The film aims to give baseball fans a better knowledge of the many inside plays to help them enjoy and understand the game.

Slow motion shots on pitching, fielding, base running, and batting by the stars of baseball were shown.

Johnny Allen, Monte Pearson and Spurgeon Chandelier explained pitching fundamentals;

Kenneth Keltner, infield play; and George McQuinn, first base play.

Then there are important shots of the Old Timers' game played at Cleveland last July and exciting plays of the 1938 World Series with highlights of the games that crowned the New York Yankees champions of the world.

"First Century of Baseball" was written and directed by Lew Fonseca, Irving P. Hadley of the New York Yankees showed the film.

At next Thursday's meeting, annual reports of the 1938 committee will be made.

Woman's Club To Meet Thursday

The next regular meeting of the Arlington Woman's club will be held Thursday, February 2, at 2 p. m. at Robbins Memorial town hall.

The program for the afternoon will be in charge of the drama committee, Mrs. Curtis K. Pinkham, chairman, who will present Adele Hoes Lee in an informal talk on "Current Theatre", and Elford Caughley, harpist, who is a member of the Boston Symphony orchestra.

Miss Lee was a teacher for a number of years at the Leland Powers School of the Theatre in Boston, and now has a school of her own called the Bishop-Lee School on Beacon Hill in Boston. During the summer months she opens her summer theatre at Malden Bridge, N. Y., where she presents the most popular plays of the season with headline personalities of the stage and screen. On every important New York theatre opening one will find Adele Hoes Lee in close contact with the principals. She feels that the public has become definitely theatre minded, so that her talks are exceptionally appealing at this time. She discusses the current plays adhering closely to the viewpoint of the playgoer, and afterwards acts out the climactic scenes from the plays under discussion.

Albert Saunders, 9, of 26 Melrose street, was taken to the Symmes hospital yesterday afternoon to be treated for injuries received when struck by an auto.

GIVEN NEEDED LECTURE

Driving an auto across ice covered Spy Pond may be thrilling but it's hardly the sensible thing to do, a motorist who attempted thefeat yesterday afternoon to be treated for injuries received when struck by an auto.

LET'S ALL WORK TOGETHER

A healthy state of economic affairs in America can be one of the strongest barriers against an infiltration of foreignisms into this country. As the nation swings into the new year a prosperous state of business does not seem out of the question if only there can be national recognition of the fact that the route to progress lies in teamwork and pulling together by all groups.

The growing recognition that petty bickering and finger-pointing will get us nowhere is one of the healthy signs on the horizon today.

Through the united effort of all groups working toward our Number One goal—that of putting men back to useful pursuits in private industry—sound recovery can be achieved.

Foreignisms, which destroy religious and political liberties, have all had their root in economic distress and human misery. We should never forget that if all groups in the nation will work together toward the common objective of sound economic recovery the door will be shut abruptly in the face of ism-mongers who would undermine our institutions.

A slogan that is today echoing the length and breadth of the land is—"Let's All Work Together". And if such a slogan can be translated into action the threat to religious, political and economic liberties will be materially lessened.

SHOW YOUR APPRECIATION

Recently the publisher of the NEWS, accompanied by the distributor of this publication, made a tour of the town, in all sections, to check the distribution of the NEWS.

The check-up involved a call at nearly one hundred homes at widely scattered points in Arlington. In each case the parties interviewed were asked if they received the NEWS that day, whether they receive it regularly and if they enjoy reading it.

The results were most gratifying as, with two or three exceptions, all questions were answered in the affirmative, indicating that our efforts to give the people of Arlington a good newspaper are really appreciated. The addresses at which calls were made were all recorded and are now in our files.

As you read this, we ask you to keep in mind that our advertisers make this service possible and by patronizing them and mentioning the NEWS we can continue to serve you even more effectively.

THE NEWS OBSERVES

Two very good programs of widely different nature are scheduled for Arlington this evening, one, of special interest to music lovers and the other, primarily for the sport followers. At the Robbins Town Hall, Arlington Post $9, American Legion band will sponsor the Federal Music project's presentation of the opera "Faust" in concert form. At the Senior High School the Boys' Club is sponsoring boxing and wrestling show. Take your pick, both are for very good causes and both should be well worth attending.

Rausch Gives Views on Housing; Zoning Laws

January 21, 1939.
The Arlington News,
Dear Sirs:

Having read with interest of the application for the rezoning to allow group rental housing I would appreciate your publication of this letter. I had the opportunity of learning considerable about housing while New England Director of P. W. A. Housing, which constructed the Cambridge and So. Boston Slum Clearance projects and feel that I can contribute something to the Arlington situation. May I add that I have attended many conferences of the Housing Association of America, and have individually made a personal research by actually visiting and closely examining the majority of the private and public housing developments on the Atlantic Seaboard from Florida to Boston. Let me be accused of being a New Dealer, was appointed to my Government position though listed as a registered Republican in Arlington and have no connection in any way with the proposed project.

Zoning laws are in general a good thing, provided they are applied with common sense and consideration is given to the fact that not 1 family in 1 can afford to live in a single home. With present construction costs the capital investment in new two-family houses necessitates rents that are so high few can pay. Group housing is therefore a fact that must be faced, for eighty percent of the people are entitled to the opportunity to live in new housing as well as the privileged few. Because the incomes of this vast group are small, they are satisfied with smaller quarters which in every way equal the single home except in size. Is it not better to allow private enterprise to construct such projects rather than having the Government continue to build more housing similar to Cambridge or So. Boston?

Actually, group housing on a large scale proves to be the most attractive, best maintained neighborhood in any community if properly conceived and executed. Being a business investment, adequate reserves are set up out of income to keep the property in good repair. With a large group under one management the whole district presents a homogeneous attractive appearance. Lawns and grounds are well cared for, and buildings are painted at the same time. Because garden spot layouts are employed, with park areas and playgrounds for the common use of tenants, ugly back yards and fences are eliminated enhancing the appearance of spaciousness. Due to the concentration of dwelling units, four fifths of the land can be devoted to landscaping.

The desire is of course better for architects are employed. Vacancies are anticipated by reserves, and are not so damaging for in no case do they exceed a small percentage of total income.

Compare this with any of our conglomerations of even single homes. Most are built by speculators who know nothing of architecture. Beautiful houses are built by monstrosities, adjoining homes fight archit. — usually some owners care nothing about their landscaping or even if the grass is green others are in financial difficulty so their inability to repaint or repair drags down the character of the whole neighborhood.

The comparison with the two-family sections of Arlington is more striking. The majority of such houses are unattractive boxes, wretchedly built, and upon such small lots that neighbors can almost shake hands by leaning out of their windows. The checkerboard of elation is even more evident than in single house districts. Where one man owns but one two-family house an extended vacancy is disastrous for half of his income is wiped out. Without income there is no money for repairs and redecoration, thereby accelerating the obsolescence of the whole neighborhood.

Mrs. Parmenter Gives
Entertaining Lecture
At Garden Club Affair

Two hundred and fifty members and friends enjoyed the illustrated lecture on "Enchanting Ireland" given by Mrs. Parmenter of Amherst, Mass., at the annual guest night of the Arlington Garden Club, in Junior High East.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Thomas Semoran who announced the meeting on Jan. 25th and the special course in "Practical Gardening" for the members of the club.

Mrs. Leroy Shaw, program chairman, took charge of the meeting, introducing William Friesberg, tenor soloist, who sang a group of Irish songs in keeping with the lecture. Mrs. Parmenter showed a very vivid and authentic collection of pictures taken on a five weeks' trip through Dublin, Belfast, Cork and other cities and towns showing the old ruins of abbeys, churches, the Kilarny Lakes, River Shannon, the thatched roof homes of the peasants, etc. The most interesting and humorous picture was the kissing the blarney stone. There were also pictures of the gathering of peat for the fires, and beautiful pictures of the Irish shore. Mrs. Parmenter had a very informal way, a pleasing voice and clear diction.

In closing, let us have no repetition of the petty politics that destroyed the honorable efforts of the men forming the Arlington Housing Corporation. Many were misled by the false rumors maliciously set up by a small minority who were motivated by jealous personal reasons. Prophets waited at the school cost that would be foisted upon the town. Now that the project has been wrecked and only a hundred thousand dollars have been added to the assessed valuation of the Town, instead of the four million dollars contemplated, most of us, if we are honest with ourselves, must admit that the community is one of the most attractive and well built in Arlington. Eighteen fine families have been brought to the Town, and but three children have been added to the school population. The small dwelling units in the proposed group housing will not allow many children to burden the schools, any more than did the small houses at Arlington. Finally, do not forget that the Crosby family owned the land long before zoning laws were ever heard of, thereby presenting an ideal test case as to the constitutionality of the question. I have heard a number of lawyers well grounded in Constitutional Law state that they could knock any zoning law into a cocked hat provided an owner was damaged sufficiently to warrant the expense of taking the matter to the Supreme Court.

Yours truly,
W. W. Rausch

Backs George Harris

Editor,
Dear Sir:

The announcement, which ran in your paper last week, stating that Mr. George A. Harris of 196 Cedar avenue, would seek election as Selectman, should be of interest to every woman in Arlington.

Mothers of growing children, as well as taxpayers, would do well to realize the importance to their families, to their tax bills, and to the welfare of the town, of a candidate of Mr. Harris' caliber.

As a long-time resident of Arlington, I know that Mr. Harris has worked quietly, and without benefit to himself, in the interest of making the town of Arlington a safer and happier place for our boys and girls. And I know that, as town meeting member, he has striven to curb the spending orgies of those who make and break town budgets regardless of tax-payers' pocketbooks.

I want to remind the women, and men too, of Arlington, that it is our civic duty to participate in the selection of those who are to be our governing officers, to consider unselfishness of intention, conscientious effort, and integrity of purpose, as the unquestionable qualities dominating the man for whom we cast our votes.

In my mind, and in the minds of many other Arlington residents, there is no question that Mr. George A. Harris is a man, and deserving of the support of every right thinking voter of this town.

Respectfully yours,
Mrs. Mary E. Crosby

Arlington Royals Play
Strong St. Alphonsus
Club Saturday Evening

The Arlington Loyals will play host to one of the strongest and fastest basketball teams in this section tomorrow night, Saturday, when they tackle the fast traveling St. Alphonsus A. A. of Roxbury in the High School gymnasium.

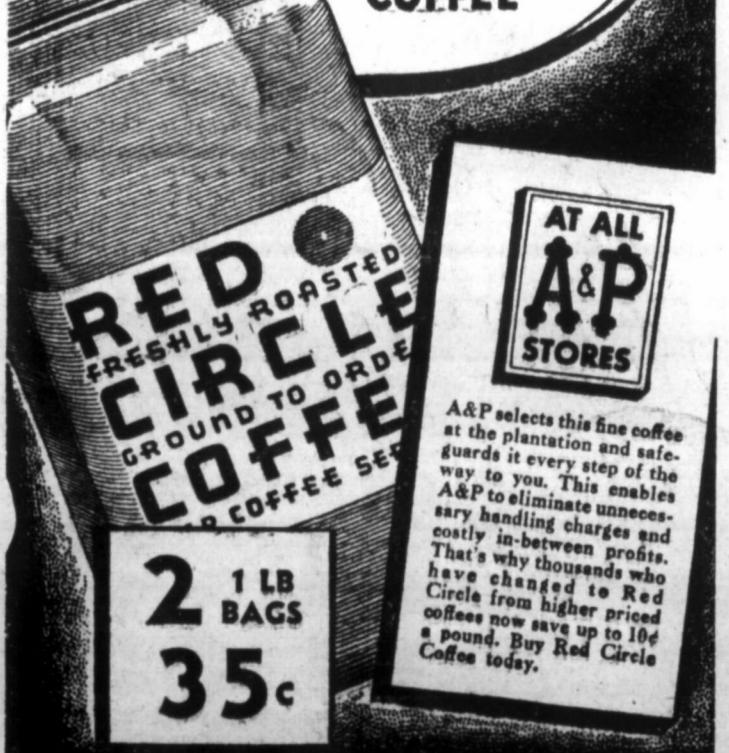

St. Alphonsus is composed of former Mission High stars who have recently returned from New York winners of a strong basketball tournament held in that city. Last week St. Alphonsus defeated the Brooklyn City Club of New York in a hair-raiser at the Boston Arena. With the Royals in top form everything points to one of the best games of the season and a large crowd is expected to be on hand. The Royal Jayvees will play a preliminary game with the Malmen Y. M. H. A. beginning at 7:30.

Last week at the High School gym the Royals showed a fine brand of basketball when they nosed out Our Lady's Alumni of Newton 42 to 41. Sunday the Royals travelled to Dover, N. H. to defeat the Battery B team of Dover 43 to 36.

Calvary Methodist Receives Memorial

The parishioners worshipping in the Calvary Church Sunday morning were greeted with the sight of lovely new altar cloths in the chancel of the church. The pieces include book marks, pulpit antependia, superfrontal for the altar and the altar covering. They are of red velour to match the dossal, and are embroidered with the religious symbolism of the early Christian Church.

The beautiful gift is given by Mrs. Margaret D. Musgrave a member of the church in memory of her mother, Mrs. Rachel S. Cochran of the Margaretville Methodist Church of Annapolis County, Nova Scotia. The altar pieces were designed and executed by another member of the church, Mrs. Carrie M. Hendricks.

It is the plan of the donor to present the church with the other color sets before the memorial is completed.

The pulpit, which has recently been rebuilt, was reconsecrated Sunday, and is given in memory of Jeremiah Mayo, by his widow, Mrs. Mabel Mayo.

The next step in the forward program of Calvary will be the addition of a new pipe organ which the officials hope will be possible before too long.

JUNIOR HIGH WEST HOST TO 200 SCHOOL EDITORS

As guests of the staff of the Menotomy Beacon, the Junior High School West publication, two hundred members of the league of Junior High publications held a most interesting meeting at Junior High East Friday afternoon and evening.

Miss Barbara Cody presided over a business meeting in the afternoon with Dr. Franklin P. Hawkes, former principal of Junior West and now superintendent of Abington schools as the principal speaker. This was followed by a debate on the subject, "That school publications develop more school spirit than athletics." Watertown and Somerville junior high school pupils took part in the debate.

Following the business meeting, came a dinner in the gymnasium served by Wyman's. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. M. Norcross Stratton, Dr. and Mrs. Hawkes, A. Haasler Elzing, director of music in local schools; and Arthur J. Mansfield, publisher of the NEWS who addressed the group at the close of the dinner. Music during the dinner was furnished by the Arlington All-Girls' band under the direction of Augustus Mazocca.

The convention's program came to a brilliant climax with the presentation of the operetta, "It Happened in Holland" by the Junior High West glee clubs under the direction of Miss Mildred Emerson and Miss Charlotte Sheehan. The production was lavishly set and the costumes worn by the large cast likewise reflected considerable work.

Patricia Dadmun was a charming Katrina while Evelyn Farley made a perfect Dutch Doll. Virginia Flagg as a gipsy also gave a remarkable performance. Other outstanding principals included Barbara Ambrose, John Jessup, Faye Williams, Bjarne Kvindeland, Robert Walsh, Olaf Hanson, Richard Batchelder, Paul Hughes, Josephine Carr, Steven Morrill, Levon Maserian, Thurston Carlson and Roy Neeven.

In the chorus which added much to the enjoyment of the operetta were:

Clara Evans, Jean Clancey, Beatrice Urquhart, Eleanor McCauley, Virginia Taft, Patricia Harvey, Mildred Lowell, Eleanor Nowlin, Barbara Robinson, Rosamund Poole, Robert Clancy, James Clark, John Dougherty, Edward Duffy, William Gormley, Ian Mott, Robert Mooney, Donald Roberts, John Hoyle, Harry Patterson, Robert Johnson, Alanson Rowell, Urselle Gallerani, and Mary Leary.

Early Sunday Morning Service Is Interesting Experiment at Heights

For all Protestant people in Arlington who desire an early morning service on Sunday, one is offered by the Congregational Church at the Heights. Excepting for the choir this morning worship is exactly the same as the 10:45 service including the same sermon. This experiment has been in progress since October first. This early service has many advantages. Next Sunday morning at both services the young people will conduct the service as a part of the Third Annual Youth Week.

Bas-Relief of The Late Horatio A. Phinney Is Presented to Hospital
